STORAGE OF VALUABLES

Updated 1-4-2010

While Chifuti has never had a problem with theft of personal items in camp, we always ask our clients to take advantage of our security protocol during their stay in camp.

Each camp has a camp manager with sole access to a safe where we suggest you store any valuables such as money, passports, tickets, jewelry etc...

Upon arrival in your assigned camp, please hand over your valuables to the manager and they will be safely and securely stored for the duration of your safari.

If this procedure is not followed, Chifuti safaris will not be liable or responsible for any loss of items left in chalets, tents, vehicles etc...

The safe is there to give you peace of mind and security. Please take advantage of it.
